Bridging Theory and Applied Business Analytics

Although many students learn the concepts of data analysis and programming in coursework, very few get structured, hands-on exposure to applying them to real-world business problems in e-governance and digital public services. Handling raw data, cleaning it, visualizing it and turning the results into actionable insights are often understood only theoretically — with little practice in an end-to-end analytics workflow using Python.

This internship addressed that gap — practically learning the full business analytics workflow with Python:
